SPEARING SCORES CITY FOR LAXITY ON AIR MAIL LINE

Says New Orleans Must Make Effort If Service Is Desired

New Orleans business men must get busy immediately if the city is to be connected with Chicago or other cities by a government air mail route, J. C. Spearling, congressman from the Second District, told members of the Young Men's Business Club yesterday.

Representative Spearling was asked if New Orleans had not been "charismatic" in its attitude toward obtaining an air mail line, and replied that he would not say that, but he did say that little or no effort had been made by business men of the city to prevail upon officials at Washington to extend a line here.

New Orleans' principal need is for a night air mail route to Chicago, Representative Spearling said. He said the main service during the daytime was almost sufficient to satisfy business houses, but that there existed a need for night transportation of mails. He urged New Orleans business men to join in a concerted effort to obtain not only this line to Chicago, but to be lighted by the government, but likewise a connection with the air mail line that now reaches Atlanta, Ga.

The air field which is to be dedicated November 11 was declared by Mr. Spearling to be of "inestimable value to the city."

The question of sending a committee to Washington to ascertain if anything could be done was brought up and it was decided that a special meeting of the club's transportation committee will be called to consider the matter.

PULITZER AIR RACE
PUT OFF THIS YEAR
Lack of Entrants Given as Cause for Postponing Premier Event of Season
Washington, Sept. 1.—There will be no airplane races this year for the Pulitzer prize, given for speed, the National Aeronautic Association announced today.

A principal reason given was the lack of entrants. The prize was won last year by Lieutenant Cyrus K. Beets, who died here today from injuries received in a crash in Pennsylvania.

The mighty Norge, which sailed alone over the North Pole, where no common ship has ever been, was forced to accept a lift from an ordinary steam freighter to get back home in Italy. The picture shows the Norge being transferred at San Francisco to a ship for Italy.

WEEVIL BLAMED FOR DECREASES IN COTTON LAND

Negro Labor's Migration to North Is Also Seen as Factor

BY PAUL WOOTON
(Times-Picayune Staff Representative)
Washington, Sept. 1.—The boll weevil and the employment of negro cotton labor by Northern industries are asserted by the department of agriculture to be two of the outstanding factors responsible for the gradual westward and northward movement of cotton productions in recent years.

In a report covering the changes in the utilization of crop lands in the United States during the past five years, the bureau of agricultural economics points out that for the United States, as a whole, crop land decreased 5 per cent, while the population increased nearly 8 per cent.

WEEVIL IS BLAMED
This notable decline in area of crops in much of the eastern portion of the cotton belt was due in part only to the depredation of the cotton boll weevil. The weevil was more decidedly the cause in Georgia and South Carolina than in the other states.

FRANCE TO TAKE LEAD IN URGING ARMS MEETING

Paris to Push Proposal for International Board of Control

BY ARNO BOSCH FLEUROT
(The Times-Picayune Foreign Service)
Paris, Sept. 1.—An international disarmament conference early next year will be urged by Paul Boncour, one of France's delegates at the League of Nations assembly. He says France has taken the initiative in proposing international control of armaments, and is ready to submit to such control by an international organism created for the purpose.

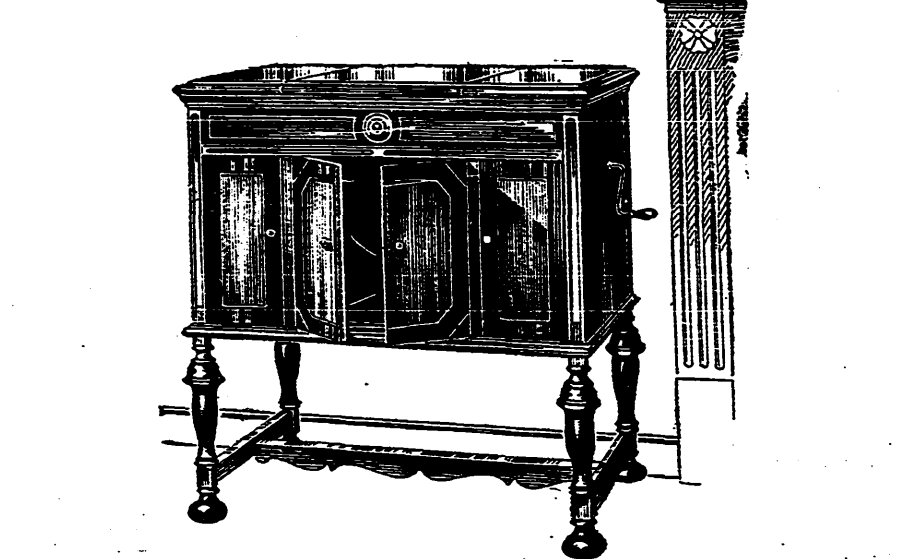

France is followed in this direction by the smaller nations within her orbit, but so far has not succeeded in persuading the great powers to accept her proposals.
