It is financed, the way in which it is subdivided, used, bought, sold, and served with heat and light, occupies the attention of some thirty-five experts who were brought together for this purpose by one of the world's foremost economists, Dr. Richard T. Ely.

Dr. Ely, at whose feet have sat some of the country's most prominent educators, was for many years professor of political economy at Johns Hopkins. There writing on taxation, it was natural that he also should become interested in the allied problems of housing, farming and the use of land.

Eight years ago he set up the institute at the

BOWMAN-BILTMORE BUILDING PLANS

Plans whereby the Bowman-Biltmore hotel interests of New York, operators of one of the largest chains of hotels in the country, will buy the controlling interest in the Pine Hills Club near Bay St. Louis, Miss., have been perfected.

This is an example of how the institute is helping to bring about equalities and justness, these people forced the formation of a commission to study the situation, and the commission immediately turned to the institute for logical agency to undertake the tremendous task of getting at the facts.

The institute set to work and some months later Chicago had a mass of data concerning real estate valuations such as probably no other large city in the country has ever had.

People had been dissatisfied with the tax situation in Chicago for some time, the information secured by the institute had convinced the Legislature that the situation was bad and in June, 1928, it passed a bill that gave the State Tax Commission authority to make a complete reassessment of all real estate in Chicago and Cook County.

How to Organize Subdivisions

The institute's only one publication, "How to Organize Subdivisions," is the institute's work that is of interest to the public.

section, attract immense activity and investment, and increase population and prosperity.

Charles Roth, of Roth and Rosenberg, differs from many of the other analysts of the situation.

Henry F. Strack, of Latta and Blum, almost had his dignity ruffor more than $75,000 property investment, although most of the business was by the civil sheriff, with the usual number of realtors and brokers clearing their slates.

Guy L. Deano obtained $4000 for a cottage at 238 Audubon street.

The civil sheriff's list was headed by a list of 915 feet front-

Mr. J. H. Armstrong, of 15100 Phosphor street, owned by Mrs. C. L. Peters, and will be used as a boarding house.

Two lots in the Lindbergh Annex subdivision, near Slidell, La., were sold by the Standard General Realty Company for a total of $2665.

George Danziger reported private sales for a total of $15,700.

Sales totaling $82,000 were reported by E. B. Rowan at DeLoach and McCarty in the ballroom of the Marberc hotel.

The double cottage at 2026-03 Apple street was included in a list of sale totaling $22,500 by the Wise-Miller office.

A message from New Zealand the other day reminded E. B. Rowan of the time when he visited that and many other distant shores during the war.
